Dear Parent/Carer

Green Careers Week: 6-11 November 2023

Green Careers Week is a fantastic new initiative that was launched last year. In 2023, it will take place between 6 and 11 November to provide young people with an insight into careers that specifically protect the environment and will help the UK achieve its pledge of reaching Net Zero by 2050.

Led by National Careers Week in partnership with a wide range of organisations including STEM.org.uk and the UK Space Agency, Green Careers Week promises to be an inspiring week, with plenty of information on how young people can get actively involved in careers that focus on positive environmental impact and change.

For your information, please find attached the Parent's Guide to Green Careers Week. This resource is packed with ideas and information about the current job market and how green careers fit in with this. I would like to pinpoint a couple of items that might be of interest:

- Pages 8-11 which gives a wide range of green careers that can be discussed with your child.
- Pages 22-23 which directs you to further resources that could be useful for discussions with your child
- Page 25 where you can sign up for a parent newsletter to receive free support, advice and resources around careers

We are looking forward to supporting Green Careers Week when we come back from half term. This is an exciting event that raises aspiration, supports diversity, challenges stereotypes, and promotes real opportunities for young people to have a career that will genuinely make a difference. During Green Careers Week, students will discover careers, jobs, roles, and career pathways that are green careers and develop green skills.

Yours sincerely
